Comments and suggestions

I will not use it directly but the understanding of the concepts will be very important both at the moment and in the future!

I say very useful, not suddenly but in medium-long time

What part(s) of the course did you like most?

Building the bootloader + distro + filesystem from scratch.

first part (till UBI fs) because I understand clearly how launch a basic linux system into an embedded system. And real-time but it's not the specific goal of this course

What part(s) of the course did you like least?

I found the nand flash lab very hard. Both in terms of understanding how everything fitted together and in execution. Also it did not add any real value to the understanding of an embedded system. Maybe the lab should be at the end of the course and be voluntary....?
Autotool.....
