Exactly what we expected to get out of a training about linux driver development

There could be a little time after and during each lab so the participants could easly follow, the tempo of labs was very high.

shorter labs but more frequent

We had some issues following the lab as our uboot version caused some issues right at the beginning. Took us a while to figure it out and got it working. It would be great if 10 minutes were spent at the beginning to get all participants on the same level.

Overall, very good, but practical lab was rather fast paced and sometimes not that easy to follow with writing code and understanding what you have written at the same time

The labs

I liked the variety between the course and the practical part. Unfortunately, it was difficult to follow the lab.
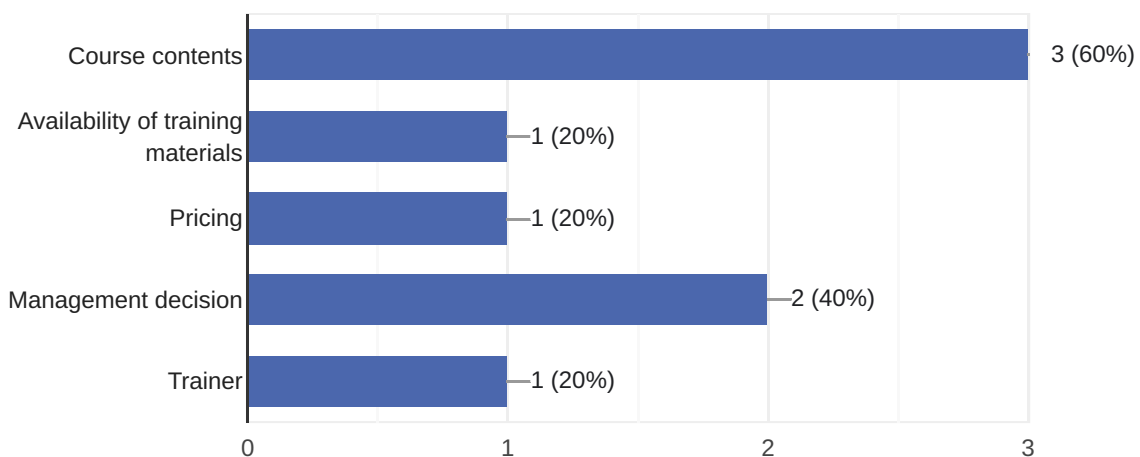

What part(s) of the course did you like least?
